STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK AT OSWEGO

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 12, 2020

Land Acknowledgement

The State University of New York at Oswego would like to recognize with respect the Onondaga Nation, the “people of the hills,” or central firekeepers of the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, the Indigenous peoples on whose ancestral lands SUNY Oswego now stands.

Please join SUNY Oswego in acknowledging the Mohawk, Oneida, Onondaga, Cayuga, Seneca, and Tuscarora Nations, their elders both past and present, as well as the future seven generations yet to come.

Consistent with the University’s values of diversity and equity, inclusion and social justice this acknowledgement demonstrates a commitment to cultivating relationships with Native American communities through academic collaborations, partnerships, historical recognitions, and community service in order to dismantle the legacies of conquest and colonization.

Officers of the College

Deborah F. Stanley
President

President Stanley is the 10th President of SUNY Oswego. Her tenure has been driven by bold and inclusive leadership and a broad vision resulting in increased academic excellence, campus renewal, and successful fundraising. Under her leadership, new programs such as electrical and computer engineering, human-computer interaction, biomedical and health informatics, and the online MBA programs were established. She pioneered the Oswego Guarantee and the $300 Graduation Return on Investment. Her ambitious campus-wide renewal plan encompasses hundreds of millions of dollars in renovations and construction, including the environmentally designated LEED Gold Shineman Center and the modernization of Tyler and Wilber halls. President Stanley serves on numerous local and national education, climate and leadership boards and institutes. She earned a baccalaureate degree with honors, and a juris doctor degree from Syracuse University.

Nicholas A. Lyons
Vice President for Administration and Finance

As SUNY Oswego's officer in charge of financial operations and facilities, Lyons has overseen 18 years of construction and renovation transforming the campus. He has served the State University since 1978, previously working as assistant vice president for administration at SUNY New Paltz, as university internal control officer and in several administrative positions at System Administration and the Research Foundation of SUNY. He holds degrees in business administration from SUNY Morrisville and SUNY Plattsburgh. At Oswego, he oversees finance, budget, student accounts, human resources, environmental health and safety, University Police, physical plant, facilities services and construction and purchasing. He also serves as the Oswego College Foundation treasurer.

Mary Canale
Vice President for Development and Alumni Engagement

Canale came to Oswego in 1996 as the coordinator of the Oswego State Fall Classic. She later became assistant director of development and, in 2002, instituted the major gifts program before becoming associate vice president for development. A 1981 alumna, Canale was integral to the success of both of the college's comprehensive fundraising campaigns as well as the Path Forward, Possibility and Marano Scholars programs. Appointed vice president for development and alumni engagement and executive director of the Oswego College Foundation in 2016, Canale serves as the college's principal fundraiser and has helped to achieve unprecedented growth in the school's endowment, which consistently shows stronger returns than peers. She is a member of the Association of Fundraising Professionals and the Council for Advancement and Support of Education.

Scott Furlong
Provost; Vice President for Academic Affairs

The college's chief academic officer, Furlong joined the Oswego family in July 2017. Furlong is responsible for leadership of all instructional and academic programs, overseeing more than 100 academic programs in the college's four schools with more than 550 faculty, as well as a range of academic support staff and offerings. A renowned public policy scholar and co-author of two books, Furlong has led and championed efforts around student success, integrating the ideals of a liberal arts education into all curriculum, and facilitating activities that bridge curricular and co-curricular learning. He earned his bachelor of arts degree in government from St. Lawrence University, and his master of public administration and Ph.D. in political science from American University.

Jerri Howland
Vice President for Student Affairs and Dean of Students

Howland was named vice president in 2019 after serving as interim vice president in fall 2018. In this leadership post, she oversees all student affairs operations and activities. Howland began serving as associate vice president of student affairs and dean of students at Oswego in 2014, supervising several units including campus life (student involvement, intramurals and recreation, event management) and student conduct. She assisted in enhancing student life programming and services on campus to foster increased student success. Howland previously served as dean of students and assistant dean for campus life at Rhode Island School of Design. Her entire career has been dedicated to higher education in various student life, support and student development positions. She earned a Ph.D. in student affairs administration and research from the University of Iowa; master of arts from Southeast Missouri State University; and bachelor of science from Frostburg State University.

Rodmon C. King
Chief Diversity and Inclusion Officer

King is responsible for implementing the college's strategic diversity and inclusion goals, while leading the cultivation, enhancement and promotion of an environment of equity and inclusion for all. Working at Oswego since July 2018, he provides counsel on all matters pertaining to diversity and inclusive excellence. King previously excelled as associate vice president for academic affairs and diversity initiatives at Centre College in Kentucky. Prior to that, King was a philosophy faculty member at Hobart and William Smith Colleges in Geneva. King received his doctorate and master's degrees in philosophy from the University of Rochester and a bachelor of art degree in religion and philosophy from Roberts Wesleyan College.

Kristen Eichhorn

Dean, Graduate Studies

Eichhorn was appointed dean in 2017 after serving the institution in several leadership roles, including Presidential Faculty Fellow, interim dean of extended learning, SUNY Faculty Senator and communication studies chair. Eichhorn was an American Council On Education Fellow in 2016-17, spending a year in Cornell University's Office of Provost. Eichhorn has a distinguished record of teaching and research and her publications include co-authoring the "Interpersonal Communication: Building Rewarding Relationships" textbook and research papers in multiple international journals. She earned her bachelor's degree from Canisius College, master's from West Virginia University and Ph.D. in communication from the University of Miami.

Kristin Croyle

Dean, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

Prior to joining Oswego in July 2019, Croyle served as vice president for student success and professor of psychological sciences at the University of Texas Rio Grande Valley. In the former role, she spearheaded retention and graduation initiatives, student educational outreach, academic advising and student academic supports, experiential learning initiatives and more. She was instrumental in shaping the student success structure, initiatives and staffing at the newly formed multi-campus university to build undergraduate student success on all campuses. Croyle's prior positions include vice provost for undergraduate education as well as dean of the University College at the University of Texas-Pan American. She received her doctor of philosophy and master of arts in clinical psychology from the University of Montana, and a bachelor of science in psychology from the University of Utah.

Julie Pretzat

Dean, School of Communication, Media and the Arts

Pretzat became dean in 2015 after serving as the school's first associate dean. Previously she chaired Oswego's music department and served as interim chair of theatre. While a music professor, she received the SUNY Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Teaching. She has organized and conducted hundreds of performances by community and college choral groups and has collaborated with college, community and professional choral, musical theater and opera groups throughout Central New York, and currently is artistic director of the Syracuse Vocal Ensemble. She has done extensive work at the college in accreditation, academic advisement and creating first-year seminar courses. She holds a bachelor's from Smith College, a master of music from the University of Michigan and a doctor of musical arts from the College-Conservatory of Music at the University of Cincinnati.

Pamela A. Michel

Dean, School of Education

Michel previously served as chair of the curriculum and instruction department and taught in the graduate literacy program. She earned her bachelor's in music and education from Elmira College and a master's and Ph.D. in reading and language arts from Syracuse University. She is the author of the book "The Child's View of Reading: Understandings for Teachers and Parents," as well as many other publications contributing to the field of literacy. She has presented widely at local, regional, state, national and international levels throughout her career on issues related to evaluation of reading difficulties, future directions of literacy clinics and children's perceptions of reading.

Jill Pippin

Dean, Extended Learning

Before rejoining Oswego in January 2014, Pippin served for eight years as dean for continuing education at Jefferson Community College. Her career, spanning both academic and business positions such as director for graduate services and enrollment, adjunct business instructor, director of operations, and major accounts manager, as well as her experience earning an MBA from Franklin University, has instilled a passion for providing access to higher education at all levels of the educational pipeline. Previously, the Oswego alumna developed the Jefferson Higher Education Center, facilitated the growth of Jefferson's military services on Fort Drum, and established other innovative and community-oriented programs for adult and non-traditional students. In 2013, she was awarded the Continuing Education Association of New York's Outstanding Continuing Educator Award.

Prabakar Kothandaraman

Dean, School of Business

Assuming the role as dean in July 2019, Kothandaraman previously served as chair and professor of professional sales in the Cotsakos College of Business at William Paterson University, and executive director of the Russ Berrie Institute for Professional Sales. He spearheaded rolling out the college's first-ever master's degree in sales leadership; assembled the Russ Berrie Institute's advisory board and graduate program advisory board; excelled in corporate sponsorships and external training revenue; and increased corporate engagement through student-centric events leading to job placement. Kothandaraman previously taught at Drexel, Texas A&M and Xavier Institute of Management in Bhubaneswar, India. He received his doctorate in business administration from Pennsylvania State University's Smeal College of Business, an MBA from the Xavier Institute of Management and a B.E. (with honors) in chemical engineering from the Birla Institute of Technology and Science in India.

Student Speaker

Lizeth Ortega Ramirez '21
*President, SUNY Oswego
Student Association*

A human resource major with a photography minor from Peru, Ortega previously served SA as director of gender equity and women's affairs. Her priorities include increasing transparency and collaboration with other organizations and departments across campus and providing resources for students to enhance their extracurricular experiences. Her previous campus activities included being Women's Center vice president, the co-ed community service fraternity Alpha Phi Omega and the Focus Forward mentor program. In summer 2020, Ortega was a human resource intern at Fulton Companies, an American multinational group of companies headquartered in Pulaski. She currently serves as senior advisor for Women's Center and continues her Fulton Companies internship.

Banner Presenters

Taylor Clark '20

Raised in the heart of Brooklyn, Clark graduates with a bachelor's in business administration and a minor in theater. She was an active member of the SUNY Oswego community, including working for Residence Life and Housing as a desk attendant in Cayuga Hall and acting as secretary for the Cayuga Hall Council. Her favorite memories at Oswego include her participation in multiple theater department productions. Through being active in American Marketing Association, including serving on its E-board, she grew a fond admiration for marketing and advertising and plans to pursue a career as a data analyst.

Daniel Garcia '20

Born and raised in Bronx, Garcia graduates with a bachelor's in computer science and a minor in art. The recipient of a Nunzio "Nick" C. and Lorraine E.

Marano Scholarship, he is a first-generation student who enjoyed living in Hart Hall's Global Living and Learning Center. Oswego's wide range of academic programs allowed Garcia to explore career interests not available to him back home. After graduating, he plans to move back to New York City and use his Oswego degree and entire Oswego experience to pursue a career in software engineering and build a better future for his family.

SUNY Chancellor's Award for Student Excellence

Dylan DiGrazia
Chemistry

DiGrazia's organic chemistry research has been presented or accepted at the northeast regional meetings of the American Chemical Society, the SUNY Undergraduate Research Conference and the RISE Summer Scholar Symposium. DiGrazia won numerous campus awards and scholarships, and performed summer research with chemistry professor Fehmi Damkaci. He was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi national honor society, president of the Outdoors Club, a tutor for the Office of Learning Services, a Math Camp assistant and peer mentor. His completed Eagle Scout project, was building a boardwalk over a muddy trail section in a park in his hometown of Amesbury, Massachusetts.

Samantha Jenks
Psychology, Cognitive Science

In the highly competitive Massachusetts Institute of Technology Summer Research Program in 2019, Jenks simultaneously managed two complex neurological research projects. The West Islip native is first author of "Threat bias and resting state functional connectivity of the amygdala and bed nucleus stria terminalis" in the Journal of Psychiatric Research and co-author of "Imaging the effects of age on proactive control in healthy adults" in Brain and Imaging Behavior. She presented at the Society for Neuroscience Conference in Chicago and SUNY Undergraduate Research Conference. Jenks also was a leader of Oswego's track and field team program and vice president of the Vega honor society.

Chanel Meyer
Spanish Adolescence Education, Spanish

Meyer earned a prestigious Fulbright Student Award to teach in Spain in 2021, after previously studying abroad and helping teach in Spain and Ecuador. She helped manage 21 international programs in nine countries as an assistant in the Office of International Education and Programs. Meyer also participated in the SUNY Stands with Puerto Rico program, helping repair houses, farms and the National Rainforest all damaged by hurricanes. She earned a federal TEACH grant to help in low-income schools, and a GETGO Scholarship to support her study-abroad activities. Meyer also was a member of the Phi Beta Delta honor society for international scholars.

Distinguished Teaching Professor Award

Leigh Wilson

Distinguished Service Professor

One of the SUNY system's highest honors recognizes Wilson's creativity and ability to inspire students, paralleled by a dedication to service that bridges her scholarship and teaching, which in turn establishes connections across disciplines and with the broader community. In addition to being an award-winning fiction writer, highly regarded teacher and chair of Oswego's English and Creative Writing department, Wilson also directs the college's creative writing program, campus-wide Grand Challenges: Fresh Water for All initiative, and the Digital Oz storytelling project. In 1982, Wilson won the prestigious Flannery O'Connor Prize in fiction for her short story collection "From the Bottom Up."

Juan Perdiguero

SUNY Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Scholarship and Creative Activities

The art professor added this prestigious statewide honor to his robust portfolio as an artist and educator. The Fulbright Scholar brought his knowledge, talent and perspective to Universidad Finis Terrae in Santiago, Chile, in 2018-19. In addition to his teaching skills and inspirational spirit, Perdiguero has presented some two dozen solo exhibitions plus more than 30 exhibitions with other artists. Colleagues championed his work ethic and humility, which lead him on a continuous desire for improvement upon his already excellent skills as an artist and teacher. In 2017, he earned the SUNY Oswego President's Award for Scholarly and Creative Activity.

SUNY Chancellor's Awards

Tyrone Johnson-Neuland

SUNY Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Professional Service

Assistant director for technical support in Campus Technology Services Johnson-Neuland was recognized for outstanding abilities and a spirit of collaboration in his daily work, displaying excellence, leadership and creativity in helping others. Johnson-Neuland has led a series of comprehensive technological upgrades in academic and residential buildings on the Oswego and Syracuse campuses. He leads a team supporting more than 200 learning spaces, advanced technology classrooms and meeting rooms, as well as the campus cable TV system, videoconferencing and webcasting systems, digital signage and more. Johnson-Neuland also proved pivotal in the campus-wide effort to champion accessibility through finding and promoting technology that can support all kinds of learners.

Geralyn Roy

SUNY Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Classified Service

Recently retired from the college's Maintenance and Operations crew, Roy earned this statewide recognition for her tireless work ethic and support of positive student experiences. She started with the campus in 1993 and consistently excelled with responsibilities in various buildings before retiring with a leadership role in Laker Hall. In that position, she earned praise for her care of student-athletes, understanding how Laker can represent their home away from home. Roy was always willing to meet needs in the fast-paced world of college athletics requiring rapid turnarounds, doing so with a smile on her face and a positive attitude.

Ampalavanar Nanthakumar

SUNY Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Teaching

This prestigious statewide recognition honors the mathematics professor's exemplary skills as an educator, dedication to students and contributions to the field of statistics. He regularly motivates, inspires and encourages students, who describe him as caring, fair, enthusiastic and well prepared. Nanthakumar has authored or co-authored more than 40 peer-reviewed papers in top international journals and presented for conferences across the globe. A 2018 recipient of the SUNY Oswego President's Award for Scholarly and Creative Activity, Nanthakumar has been president of the Sigma Xi scientific research honor society, and chaired the Institute for Global Engagement's Cultural Committee and International Student and Visiting Scholar Committee.

Barbara St. Michel

Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Professional Service

St. Michel was honored for her unrivaled insight and institutional knowledge into programs and events from her 37 years of working for SUNY Oswego in a variety of key roles. She draws upon this experience to meet the current needs of students, faculty, staff and guests. Her dedication reflects her passion and her selflessness as a behind the scenes person applying her skills and care so the people in the spotlight can shine. St. Michel's tireless support has boosted such key initiatives as Orientation, Family and Friends Weekend, and the African, Latino, Asian and Native American (ALANA) Student Leadership Conference.

State University of New York Distinguished Faculty

The Distinguished Faculty Rank programs encourage an ongoing commitment to excellence, kindle intellectual vibrancy, elevate the standards of instruction and enrich contributions to public service. They demonstrate the State University's pride and gratitude for the consummate professionalism, the groundbreaking scholarship, the exceptional instruction and the breadth and significance of service contributions of its faculty.

College Honors Program

The Oswego College Honors Program consists of a core of courses in the social sciences, humanities, natural sciences, philosophy and history designed to stimulate students' intellectual growth and develop their analytical abilities. Unlike traditional courses, which present material from a single field of study, Honors Program courses are multi-disciplinary, drawing ideas and information from many fields and addressing concerns common to all the disciplines. In addition to Honors core requirements and all the requirements in their majors, Honors Program students must also meet requirements in laboratory science and a foreign language and complete an Honors Thesis, in which they explore a topic in some depth.

The following students from the Class of 2020 are completing the requirements for the SUNY Oswego College Honors Program:

Brandon Ash
Jess Burgos
Brittney Colon
Louis DeMarco
Christopher Gayvert
Kate Gordon
Hanna Greulich
Ashler Herrick
David Hite
Edward Kelly
Kirsten Klingaman
Meghan Maquet
Claire Millington
Kristina Parker
Anne Seichepin

A leader in education and an advocate of free public schools, Edward Austin Sheldon (1823-1897) was responsible for opening the Oswego Primary Teachers' Training School. Sheldon's pioneering ideas in object teaching became a model for other normal schools throughout the nation and around the world. Sculptor John Frances Brines designed the statue that was constructed with penny contributions from school children throughout the state in 1899.

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the largest academic division in SUNY Oswego, boasting 18 academic departments, 15 interdisciplinary programs, five graduate programs, and several certificate programs. Providing a learner-centered community committed to high intellectual standards, the college offers more than 40 undergraduate majors in subjects ranging from American studies to zoology, nearly as many minors, and eight cooperative degree programs. Through in-depth study in traditional and interdisciplinary programs, we prepare students to identify and develop productive solutions to the many challenges facing regional, national, and global civil society.

School of Communication, Media and the Arts

The School of Communication, Media and the Arts brings together programs related to the study and creation of messages through art and music, electronically and via the spoken word. The school combines the strengths of fine and performing arts programs in art, music and theatre with the highly diverse department of communication studies. Nine undergraduate degree options and three master's degrees are offered in addition to interdisciplinary majors and minors.

Candidates for Baccalaureate Degree

Subject to completion of all degree requirements, degrees will be conferred upon those individuals listed herein who have met the requirements of their respective degrees in May 2020, August 2020 and December 2020.

The College Mace

School of Education

Innovation in authentic learning has been a hallmark of SUNY Oswego since its founding in 1861. This creative spirit still thrives in the School of Education, where innovative methods grounded in research and early experiences in the field help students become teachers, counselors, school leaders, and wellness and technical professionals ready to meet the challenges of today's global and diverse educational institutions and communities. The school is accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Candidates for Baccalaureate Degree

Subject to completion of all degree requirements, degrees will be conferred upon those individuals listed herein who have met the requirements of their respective degrees in May 2020, August 2020 and December 2020.

Hail OSWEGO

Voices fill the air

Singing reverently

Pledging our school fair

Truth and loyalty

This our song we raise

In her name and praise

Oswego, Alma Mater

Hail to thee!
